Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-8 and 17-29, drawn to a surface covering and method of forming said surface covering, classified in class 428, subclass 198.
 - II. Claims 9-16 and 34-39, drawn to a welding rod and method of forming said welding rod, classified in class 428, subclass 364.
 - III. Claims 30-33, drawn to a seamed surface covering, classified in class 428, subclass 98.

2. Inventions I and II are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product (MPEP § 806.04(b), 3rd paragraph), and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.04(h)). In the instant case, the intermediate product (Invention I) is deemed to be useful as a decorative article and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct since there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants (i.e. the surface covering does not have to be further processed to form the welding rod). Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1733

3. Inventions I and III are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product (MPEP § 806.04(b), 3rd paragraph), and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.04(h)). In the instant case, the intermediate product (Invention I) is deemed to be useful as a decorative article and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct since there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

4. Inventions II and III are related as independent inventions, each having a unique and separate means for establishing patentability. Invention II is directed to a welding rod and method of forming said welding rod, while Invention III is directed to a seamed surface covering formed by joining two surface covering sheets. In this instance, Invention II forms a welding rod by further processing a surface covering sheet via molding means. On the other hand, Invention III joins two surface covering sheets together to form a seamed surface covering. As such, it is evident that the respective inventions are directed to unique and patentably distinct inventions and as such, restriction is proper.

Art Unit: 1733

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. A telephone call was made to Steven Schmid on August 28, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.
